Additional Locals.

Toll Gate Removed.

More than fifty years ago Mr. Henry N. Smythe became the toll gate keeper on the Campbellsville pike, just inside the corporate limits of Columbia. Mr. Smythe died seven or eight years ago, and his wife succeeded him as keeper and continued to fill the position until a few days ago when she resigned. A Mr. Bryant was appointed in her stead, and the gate was removed from the old stand to a small house owned by Mr. G. A. Smith, just this side of the iron bridge that spans Russell's creek. Mr. Smith did not live in a toll house, the cottage she and her daughters occupy being her own.

Mr. E. G. Shaw, who is employed at Campbellsville, was at home last Sunday. He reported that the brick work on the new Christian church and the brick work on the new Baptist church, that city, will soon be completed. They are both magnificent buildings, the two costing, when completed, about $50,000. But few towns of the population of Campbellsville will be able to boast of handsomer edifices. Besides these buildings, Mr. Shaw reports that several attractive and costly residences have recently been completed in Campbellsville.

On January 1, 1916, the following gentlemen will be sworn in as the municipal board of the town of Columbia: Geo. M. Stevenson, T. E. Jeffries, Sam Lewis, G. R. Reed, A. O. Taylor. All five are enterprising men, and it is expected and believed that they will do some valuable work for the town during their term of office.

The weather for the past two weeks has been ideal for farm work and the farmers have caught up. For some days now they will be hauling in wood for their use during the winter.

Be Merciful.

There is that in the hearts of all men which awakens a sentiment of pity for the old farm horse; yet there are those who lack the proper considerations for him. The horse works hard for us, and as a faithful servant he should be kept when he gets old, for the good he has done. It seems reasonable to believe that inasmuch as he gets only his living, he has done enough for his master to earn for himself a short rest in his last days. When we see an old horse pulling more than he is able, let us stop and ask ourselves whether we shall ever get old and be forced to bear burdens too heavy for us. Let the old horse enjoy a bite of feed and a vacation.

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Kentucky:
The year is drawing to a close, and it is a time-honored custom of our people to turn aside a while in the autumn from their regular avocations of life in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many kindnesses and mercies.

We have been blessed with peace and law and order, abundant crops, financial success and prosperity on every line. Health and happiness have been given to our people as much or more than ever before.

While the war has devastated and desolated many nations in Europe, and millions of men have been killed and hundreds of millions of dollars have been expended, a Gracious Providence has enabled us to preserve friendship and comity with the nations in which we have to deal and to bestow aid and helpfulness to many in distress and in need.

Our people are more and more appreciating the part they have to play at a time when all the world is excited and aroused by unprecedented disasters and distresses, and with a unanimity unparalleled all are hoping that God in His wisdom will decree that our nation shall become the aiding and directing peacemaker of the world.

Now, therefore, I, James B. McCreary, Governor of Kentucky do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, 1915, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and I invite the people throughout the State of Kentucky to cease from their usual occupations on that day and in their home and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

In testimony whereof I have caused these letters to be made patent and the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

Done at Frankfort, the fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and fifteen and in the one hundred and twenty-fourth year of the Commonwealth.

Jas. B. McCreary.

By the Governor,
C. F. Crecelius, Secretary of State,

By Guy F. Vansant,
Assistant Secretary of State.

Rugby.

The election went off quietly here. The precinct went Republican by 22 votes, all except our neighbor, F. A. Strange, carried his precinct by 17 votes.

Your scribe, Z. A. Hayse, and Dr. X. W. Scott were in Columbia last Wednesday.

J. M. Shives and wife were visiting in Metcalfe county last week. This was the first time the house was left at night for 21 years. Can any one else beat the record?

W. S. Pickett, wife and children, Bell and Cynthia, of Pyrus, visited at your scribes last Saturday and Sunday. They reported an epidemic of typhoid fever at Pickett.

J. M. Shives, our hustling merchant, has recovered his dwelling with a new rubber roof. He can now stay in the dry.

Crit Janes has sold his interest in the Hayse farm to Z. A. Hayse for $200. Mr. Hayse then sold the whole place to Albert Brummett, the amount is unknown. We are glad to have Mr. Brummett with us and hate to give Mr. Janes up.

Asa Warner has moved to Bob Simpsons. Glad to have you with us, neighbor.

Our Sunday School is progressing nicely and F. A. Strange is one of the best Superintendents in the county.

Last Wednesday a Mr. Phelps moving to Columbia from Lossing Bottom, run over a stump near Bob Strange's store, bursted the skin on his face and mashed his hand and sprained a little girls arm and leg. The same place the day before a Mr. Allen and his wife, from Iowa had a narrow escape from death.
